Beginning to Work It Out

Beginning to Work It Out is a classroom based soft skills training program designed to help at risk youth and young adults prepare for successful employment by developing:

- (1) Awareness of personal beliefs which conflict with employer expectations.
- (2) Communication skills for talking through difficult situations.
- (3) Problem solving skills to identify goals, avoid assumptions, and resolve issues.

"This program is EXACTLY what we need to help our clients (homeless youth, etc.) get jobs and keep them! I really enjoyed it!"

John Pirkoff
